Classroom Delivery Logistics

There are a few ways that students can discover the content of this course:

- 1) Completely online.
 - a. Students will gain a basic introduction if completing the modules on their own. A quiz accompanies each online module, and a certificate can be accessed at the end. This will take approximately 2 hours.
 - b. The Module Summary Sheets in this guide will be helpful learning tools even if students explore the modules on their own.
 - c. A teacher could lead students through the course by displaying it on one screen for a class to view.
- 2) Blended approach. Teachers can use the questions and resources in this guide to supplement the online modules. This will obviously take more time, but there are opportunities for deeper learning! Teachers may choose to display the modules on the screen and guide students through the content depending on the group and access to technology.
- 3) Blended approach plus project. After the online portion and module summary sheets are complete, teachers could choose to follow-up with various class project options with cross-curricular connection potential.

See Module-Lesson Outlines for approximate timelines.*

Online Logistics

- ✓ Students should register for an account to access the course on SaskMoney.ca/Start. This allows them to save their online progress and get a certificate at the end.
- ✓ If the registration process is a barrier, a teacher could use their own account to display the online content for the class. This limits students from going through activities on their own, and they won't be able to get individual certificates.
- ✓ Like students, teachers will need to complete the course to access all of the online content. One cannot jump ahead in the course without completing modules in order. However, once the course has been completed, content can be accessed in any order, so a teacher could choose to use specific modules that suit their class.
- ✓ Videos must be watched before moving from topic to topic.
- ✓ Pages without videos may have time limits (less than a minute) that prevent someone from moving on too soon.

Curriculum Connections

The SaskMoney Start online modules are designed to give students a basic introduction to the first five modules in the Saskatchewan Entrepreneurship 20, 30 course. These five modules are recommended for Saskatchewan middle years learners. Although this age group is the target for this program, the content could be used to introduce learners of all ages to entrepreneurship concepts.

SaskMoney Start Module(s)	Corresponding Curriculum Module	Curriculum Indicators
1 & 2	1	A, B, F
3	2	B, C, E, F, G
4	3	A, B, G, I
5	4	A, C, E, F, G, H (in multiple modules)
6 & 7	5	A, D, E, F, (H...brainstorming techniques), (J if doing project)
8	3	M (if using the myBlueprint activity)

These 5 curriculum modules in Entrepreneurship 20, 30 are “Suggested Modules” for middle years PAA. See p. 30 in the curriculum guide.*

Module-Lesson Outline (for blended approach)

Below, you will find suggestions for structuring your students' study of the introduction to entrepreneurship. A few considerations:

- ✓ The online modules must be watched in order, so a student cannot jump ahead in the course.
- ✓ Teachers can choose pre and post online lesson content to facilitate student learning. The optional content is tied to curriculum but may be skipped if time is an issue.
- ✓ Some teachers may want to have students view more than one module in a sitting. In that case, combine some of the suggested introductory questions and/or activities.

Entrepreneur Interview Assignment

Objective:

Students will learn about entrepreneurship by interviewing a local entrepreneur. This assignment will help them understand the challenges and rewards of running a business, as well as develop their communication and critical thinking skills.

1. Choose an Entrepreneur:

- Find a local entrepreneur to interview. This could be someone who owns a small business, a startup founder, or a person involved in a social enterprise.
- Make sure to ask for permission to conduct the interview and clarify if it's in-person, over the phone, or via video call.

Create a list of at least 10 questions to ask the entrepreneur. Here are some questions to get you started:

Potential Summative Project Options

We hope that students are inspired to put their entrepreneurship knowledge to work after completing the SaskMoney Start program!

Teachers, there are a few ways to explore student learning. You may choose one or both options depending on how it fits with your year plan:

- Product or service development and sales
- Product or service Pitch Party

Should you choose to engage in a project, consider framing it as a potential fundraiser to help focus students' work and to ease the stress of making money individually.

Starting Point

- a. Have students think of something that they love.
- b. Ask them to list three things that could make it better.
- c. Ask them to consider one of the three options that could potentially be turned into a business. This could be by creating a product or providing a service. ie.) A used book sale to raise money to support a local cause; a physical prototype or drawing of a product that offers a solution to making what they love better.

Option A: Pitch Party (somewhat brief individual activity)

Students “pitch” their idea from Starting Point “c” to the class.

- After settling on one idea. Students can develop a plan of turning this into a business:
 - What will they sell?
 - Will their sales support a cause?
 - How will they bring their product or event to life?
 - Why will people want to support this business?
- Prepare a one-minute sales pitch for the class
 - Consider using tips from Tips for a Shark Tank Pitch
- Each student (or partners) present to the class and answer questions
- A listening guide could be helpful! (see Pitch Party Listening Guide document p. 26)

Potential Pathways for Option A:

- Students could vote on the top 3-4 projects that they believe are achievable and can have an impact.
- Assemble students into teams to bring an idea from the pitch party to life.
- One or more ideas could turn into a fundraiser!

Option B: Students Engage in the Design Thinking Process

- a. Separate students into groups. Students choose a focus for their group.
- b. Design Thinking process:
 - c. Empathize: Each member interviews a potential customer about challenges they face in their everyday life, or about challenges in their community. Students report back to group next day.
 - d. Define: Assemble interview research and define what will be developed based on “Empathize” research.
 - e. Ideate: Refine idea by coming up with as many options/solutions as possible.
 - f. Prototype: Develop prototype or plans for event
 - g. Test prototype by involving others (possibly those who were interviewed in Empathize phase)
 - h. Refine idea by restarting the Design Thinking Process.

Potential Pathways for Option B

- Students can have a Pitch Party where they “sell” their idea to the rest of the class.
 - Consider bringing in a community judge. Contact admin@saskmoney.ca if you would like a contact!
- Students can bring the winning pitch party idea to life by hosting a fundraiser based on their project!
